JAPAN ACCEPTS IN NOTE TODAY

Communication Received at Washington Omits Reference to Discussion of Pacific Problems

REGARDED AS DISAPPROVAL

Officials Plainly Perplexed and no Date is Likely to be Set Until Situation Clears

(By United Press)

Washington, July 14.—The state department today was notified of Japan's acceptance of the invitation to a disarmament conference.

The Japanese communication, however, omitted any reference to a discussion of problems in the Pacific which was also included in the tentative invitation sent out last Saturday.

It was stated on high authority that Japan's failure to include the Pacific instructions in her acceptance was necessarily regarded as an expression of disapproval of the American proposal.

It was added however that the Japanese government would have to agree before hand to include Pacific problems because any practical result of disarmament would have to be based on an amicable settlement in the Pacific.

Officials were plainly perplexed by the Japanese answer and it was assumed that no formal invitation naming a date for the conference will be prepared until the Japanese attitude is cleared up.

The possibility of Japan making some such answer had been foreseen and discussed here, but it was believed that she would finally accept unreservedly.

Formal notification that China would partake in the conference also was received today. All the five nations which received the American query as to whether invitation to a conference would be welcomed have now replied with an unconditional affirmative except Japan.

China's notification of her willingness to participate in the conference included a statement that she would welcome discussions of the far eastern problems.

The United States will offer no objection to the participation of Belgium and the Netherlands in discussion of problems touching the Pacific, it was said. It is recognized these two countries have a stake in the east.

WILL SPEAK HERE ON AMENDMENTS JULY 21

B. R. Inman, Manager of Indiana State Chamber of Commerce Consents to Make Address

DISCUSSION TO BE IMPARTIAL

B. R. Inman, manager of the Indiana State Chamber of Commerce, has consented to speak here regarding the proposed amendments to the Indiana constitution, on Thursday evening, July 21.

The meeting will be held at seven thirty o'clock in the court house assembly room, and both the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, which have sponsored the meeting, will have a large representation present. Members of both clubs are also being advised to advertise the meeting wherever possible so as to get as large attendance as possible. The address will be limited to one hour. The speech will be from a strictly impartial standpoint as the State Chamber of Commerce has no "ax to grind". Special stress will be laid on the two tax amendments, which are regarded as the most important of any proposed.

The amendments will be voted on in September and a majority of the votes cast will decide the questions at issue.

TO FORECLOSE ON A LIEN

Hogue & Hogue Sue Roy Sipes in Circuit Court

A suit was filed today in the circuit court by Russel Hogue and Charles Hogue, brothers doing business in Shelbyville, against Roy Sipes, et al., the complaint being to foreclose a mechanics lien, which they maintain they hold on an automobile brought to their garage for repair work, and which is unpaid for. The plaintiffs allege that the repair work on an auto truck amounted to $67. In the case as defendants also are named the firm of Mullins and Taylor of this city, who now have the machine in their possession, according to the complaint, and also the American Security Company, which also claims an interest in the machine.

MUNITION MEN FOR DISARMAMENT

American Makers Today Place Themselves on Record as Favoring Limitation

ENDORSE HARDING STAND

Men Whose Business Interests Receive Huge Profits Through War Express Views

By HAROLD D. JACOBS

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

(Copyright 1921 by The U. P.)

New York, July 14.—American munitions makers today placed themselves on record in favor of limitation of armaments.

Men whose business interests would receive huge profits through war, endorsed President Harding's proposed disarmament conference, both from a humanitarian and economic standpoint.

Chief among those who declared for armament limitation in statements to the United Press was Irene Dupont, president of E. I. Dupont, De Nemours company, largest powder manufacturers in the world.

Dupont revealed that his concern had scrapped and dismantled 95 percent of the plants which provided the United States and the allies with powder during the world war.

Others who took a stand against burdensome armaments were: Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, Hudson Maxim, James Talbot, president of the Dayton-Wright airplane company, Harry B. Mason, Secretary of Park Davis company, Detroit chemical concern which engaged extensively in turning out war products and Colonel E. A. Deeds, automobile accessory and airplane manufacturer who was chief of aircraft production during the war.

Heads of the electric boat company, manufacturers of Holland type submarines and the Cramp Ship Building Yards in Philadelphia which builds war ships for the United States and other countries, refused to commend on disarmament.

"There is some confusion in the use of the word 'disarmament'" Dupont said. "To actually disarm is absurdly Utopian at it would be to discuss the police force of the earth on the theory that everybody would be good. To limit armament or at least to eliminate the suicidal competition to obtain supremacy appeals to everybody's common sense. "I hope that sound public opinion will compel a limitation of armament."

"Incidentally it may interest your editors to know that the Dupont company's military powder used by the United States and the Allies during the war have been dismantled and scrapped to the extent of 95 percent of their capacity."

Judge Gray based his approval of armament limitation upon the basis of all great powers acting in concert.

"Upon the assumption that all other countries connected with the high seas will agree to limitation concerning armaments I should like

Gorgeous, Glittering, Glaring, That's What Circulars Say

Also Startling, Stupendous, Stupefying Will be Picnic of Rushville Grove No. 6 Tall Cedars of Lebanon, at City Park Here July 27. Likened to Three Ring Circus

Gorgeous, glittering, glaring, say the circulars being mailed out announcing the Tall Cedars picnic at the city park July 27, and it might be added, stupefying, stupendous, startling, if all reports are true about what is in store for the members of Rushville grove No. 6 and their families, who are invited to the mid-summer meeting.

The picnic will begin in the afternoon, run through rather later at the supper hour and into the evening. It is compared on the circulars to a three-ring circus, the first being in the afternoon special entertainment will be provided for all, the second the basket supper at 5:30 and the third the minstrel show in the evening.

The night program, it is promised will outshine the other minstrel show given by Rushville grove. A rehearsal was held last night and all of the players are said to be well "tuned up" for the big event.

The attendance, it is now estimated, will be near a thousand people, as the grove now has over four hundred members.

The basket supper will be served cafeteria style inside a big tent thirty by eighty feet in dimension. Tables will be provided for all on which to eat their suppers.

It is urged that all baskets be at the park by three-thirty o'clock in the afternoon so that there will be ample time in arranging the food in the serving tent for the supper at 5:30. Each family is expected to provide its own silverware, but the committee will provide other necessities.

The picnic will be the only gathering of the Tall Cedars during the summer, degree work having been suspended during the hot weather.

DECISION MAKES THE COUNTY LIABLE

Court Decides it Shall Repair The Streets Built in City Under Three-Mile Road Law

EFFECT IT WOULD HAVE HERE

Practically All Paved Streets in Rushville Constructed Under This Statute

Rush county is liable for the repair of streets in Rushville which were constructed under the three-mile road law, if a decision given by Judge John W. Donaker in the Bartholomew circuit court at Columbus a few days ago is upheld by the Indiana supreme court.

The case originated in Columbus where the council presented a claim of $300 to the Bartholomew county commissioners for the repair of certain streets which were resurfaced after they were built by the county. The commissioners refused to allow the claim on the ground that after the road within the city limits was built it became a part of the city system of streets and that the city of Columbus was responsible for repairs. The city appealed the case to the circuit court.

Clarence E. Custer, county attorney, announced that he would appeal the case to the Indiana court.

Before the decision was given the Columbus city council ordered material for resurfacing streets built under the three-mile road act. This

DECREASE IN FREIGHT RATES RECOMMENDED

Examiner of Interstate Commerce Commission Advises Substantial Lowering of Charges

LIVE STOCK MEN PETITION

(By United Press)

Washington, July 14.—A substantial decrease in freight rates on live stock in approximately two-thirds of the United States from the Pacific to the Mississippi river and Chicago and from the Gulf to Canada was recommended to the interstate commerce commission by Examiner Disque of the commission.

The oral argument will be heard tomorrow. An application for ordering reduction of live stock rates was requested of the interstate commerce commission by international livestock shipping leagues on the ground that the rates are prohibitive and a menace to the live stock industry.

The rates are excessive from the transportation officials standpoint, and they should be reduced to help bring the live stock situation over the present crisis.

TWO RUSH COUNTY BOYS ARE LUCKY

Russell Gray of This City and L. H. DeMoss of Henderson Appointed To Camp Knox

OTHERS DENIED ADMISSION

Candidates For Military Training Camp Are Expected to Report by July 21

Two Rush county young men have been appointed in a list of 426 Indiana applicants for the month's training at Camp Knox, Ky., and each of these young men has received orders to report at Camp Knox on July 21. Russell Gray, 220 North Perkins street and Lowen Harry DeMoss of Henderson were the only lucky ones from Rush county whose applications happened to be pulled out in the drawing.

Several Rush county young men had made applications for the training camp. Gray sent his application in last Friday, by special delivery, and received word Monday that he had been accepted.

The order sent out from this corps area, is to the effect that the applicants are to report at Camp Knox on July 21. The order states that in lieu of transportation and subsistence while traveling, the finance department will pay these men upon their arrival at Camp Knox, 5 cents for each mile over the shortest usually travelled route from their legal residence.

When the 30 days training is over the finance department will make a similar payment for the return trip.

Paul Tucker Harmon of Morris-town is also included in the list of the appointments to the training camp.

The selections were made by drawing and the actual fitness of

FOUND IN THE ATTIC

Found in the attic of hundreds of Rush County and Rushville homes, suitable clothes for men, women and children of Armenia. The need is great and the call is to you. Near East Relief has operated 63 hospitals with 6,522 beds, 128 clinics, 11 rescue homes, 229 orphanages, accommodating 54,600 children, (56,039 other children supported outside of orphanages.) At least a million people, and probably more, are living in the Near East today who would have perished had it not been for American relief.

The people are enterprising and anxious, even in exile, to avail themselves of every possible opportunity to regain self-support.

Don't fail to gather up all the clothes, shoes, bedding and etc, that you can possibly spare and save a life. Rush County has always met her quota. Let us not fail now. Have your bundle on the front porch by eight o'clock Saturday morning.

SAYS WONAN IS INSANE

Mrs. Kaber Unbalanced Mentally Since Birth, Alienist Says

(By United Press)

Cleveland, Ohio, July 14.—Mrs. Eva Katherine Kaber on trial for the murder of her husband, Daniel S. Kaber, wealthy Lakewood publisher, has been insane since her birth, according to testimony introduced at the trial today by Dr. James Russell.

Dr. Russell, alienist, who was called by the defense, made this statement in reply to a hypothetical question.

MUSIC FEATURED AT 1921 ASSEMBLY

Entertaining Numbers Will Have Prominent Place on Chautauqua Program Aug. 7 to 14

18-PIECE BAND IS COMING

Pamahasika's Peerless Performing Pets One of Most Unique Entertainments Ever Offered

The entertainment features of the Rush county chautauqua, which will be held at the city park this year August 7 to 14 inclusive, are far above the ordinary and are believed to be the best variety which has ever been offered on an assembly program.

Outstanding among the musical organizations coming next month is the White Hussars, an eighteen-piece band. Then, too, in the same class with this company are the Rondoliers, who will be here on Tuesday, and the Sholles orchestra, which will give a concert in the afternoon and a prelude in the evening, on Saturday, and will remain over Sunday for two preludes.

Other musical organizations on the program are the Chicago Opera company, which is a favorite here, and the Harry Leiter Light Opera company. The former will come on the opening day for two concerts and the latter on Friday for a prelude in the afternoon and a concert at night.

On Thursday the musical numbers will be provided by local talent, this day having been set aside for the farmers of the county. On Tuesday night the attraction will be entirely new for the Rush county chautauqua. The program will be given by Pamahasika's Peerless Performing, Pets, which is a complete circus in itself.

No one musical organization in America has done more to lift high the standard of chautauqua music than has the Chicago Operatic Company, headed by that sterling singer, John B. Miller, which comes the first day.

This organization has but one ideal—to present the best in music in such a manner as to win the cordial appreciation of the most discriminating musical critics—and throughout its years of contact with the music loving public, from the chautauqua platform, that ideal has been constantly in mind.

The result has been the recognition of the company, everywhere, as the standard attraction of its kind—unsurpassed and unsurpassable. This recognition comes no less from the attainments of the company in the past than from the personnel consistently maintained by Mr. Miller in the company. The very names of the artists making up the Chicago Operatic Company give assurance of "quality" programs. These artists have established their reputations by consistently meeting the most exacting musical demands.

The personnel includes, in addition to Mr. Miller, tenor, the following splendid musicians: Mae Graves Atkins soprano; Rose Lutiger Gannon and Frederica Gerhardt Downington contraltos; G. Magnus Schutz bass; Amy Emerson Neill violinist, and Edgar A. Nelson and Ralph Zirkle pianists. The programs presented by the company comprise the services of but six of these artists, the contraltos and pianists alternating.

FIRST SESSION IS SATISFACTORY

Eamon DeValera and Premier Lloyd George Confer Alone in Downing Street For 2 Hours

TO BE RESUMED FRIDAY

Completely Satisfactory From Sinn Fein Viewpoint—Irish Leader Confident of Success

(By United Press)

London, July 14.—The first session in the Irish peace negotiations this afternoon was completely satisfactory to the Sinn Fein representatives, it was stated at the conclusion of the conference.

Eamon De Valera and Premier Lloyd George conferred alone in Downing street for two hours and completed their conference at 7:15. "The conference was completely satisfactory from our viewpoint," declared Arthur O'Brien who accompanied DeValera although he did not participate in the negotiations. The conference will be resumed tomorrow morning.

Eamon De Valera shortly before his opening conference with Premier Lloyd George today, expressed confidence in the outcome of the Irish peace negotiations.

"I am sure the atmosphere for peace both in Ireland and Great Britain is 'extremely favorable,'" he declared in a statement to the United Press.

"All that remains is to get down to bed rock and negotiate a just peace."

Later in addressing the correspondents in general, the Irish leader said:

"No country in the world needs to understand the logic of Ireland's cause as much as Great Britain, it is obviously inopportune for me to speak at length in that regard."

An official statement was issued at Sinn Fein headquarters here to the effect that the conference between De Valera and Lloyd George was "purely personal." The Irish leader will be accompanied by Arthur O'Brien and Richard Barton, but they will not participate.

Eamon De Valera, president of the "Irish Republic" and Premier Lloyd George had final conference with their respective group of colleagues this morning, preliminary to the first session of the peace negotiations scheduled for 4:30 p. m. in Downing street.

The British premier was drawing up a formal statement of his government's proposals for a settlement. This was to be presented to De Valera this afternoon.

WOULD YO' BELIEVE IT, SHOWERS PROMISED

Some Relief in Sight From Intense Heat, According to Today's Weather Prediction

92 NOONDAY TEMPERATURE

The weather man promised relief tonight from the intense heat, when he predicts thundershowers and cooler weather for Friday. Although today did not reach the high level established last week when 98 degrees were recorded, yet the thermometer today recorded 92 degrees at noon, which broke all records for heat this week.

The mercury was climbing fast today and bounded up four degrees between eleven and twelve. According to Elwood Kirkwood, in charge of the thermometer for the government in this county, the highest temperatures are recorded about two o'clock in the afternoon, and from then on the mercury, as a rule begins to drop gradually.

Although the county has received several showers this week, they were not of the kind that is needed right now. The ground is badly in need of a good "soaker," and the showers which are predicted for tonight, will be welcomed in every part of Rush county and especially will cooler weather be appreciated.

to see the United States participate

The veteran Maxim favored a five on a just and reasonable basis," he year world truce to enable all nations to determine the proper extent of armament curtailment.

"An armament truce is what is needed among the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan in order to save the colossal cost of a race for supremacy by force or arms," he stated. "And thus let the world wounds inflicted by the great war be healed and some of the waste repaired and greatly needed internal development and national progress be fostered by the man power and money that would be released."

"Leading nations must always maintain sufficient armament for needed policing of land and sea and sea to maintain good behavior.

Commercial aeronautics would be greatly benefited by disarmament, according to Talbot, of the Dayton-Wright Airplane Company.

To this, Colonel Deeds added:
"The real aviation development—along commercial lines—which is to come will produce vastly different planes than the battle craft.

"I believe that if some sort of a disarmament plan is evolved, it will be a good thing for aeronautics."

Secretary Mason and Parke-Davis Company, unqualifiedly approved the Harding conference. "The principle has always been a good one and if the Washington meeting results in an agreement it will tend not only to lessen the chances of war but relieve the peoples of the world of burdensome taxation," he said.

TWO RUSH COUNTY BOYS ARE LUCKY

the candidate for appointment had nothing whatever to do with his selection. Due to this arrangements, it is not believed that any attention was paid to county quotas.

Enrollment at this camp implies no later service obligations, although it is hoped that men who attend will be inclined thereafter to enroll with the National Guard or the Reserve.

The training at Camp Knox will be carried on in the spirit which infused Plattsburg and the other pre-war camps. The ideal of virile American manhood will be strongly emphasized in this and in all similar camps. Devotion to country, good comradeship, “Team-work” and a feeling of democracy, coupled with a high respect for good discipline and morale will be throughout controlling aims.

Uniform training and instruction will include the initiation of all who attend into the elementary duties of the soldier and the ordinary routine of camp life. There will be squad, platoon and company drill; small arms firing practice; guard duty; camping and marching; individual cooking; care of equipment and actual problems in open warfare.

The supreme aim of Camp Knox will be the physical well-being and development of all who attend. Every man is urged to take vaccination against smallpox and anti-typhoid treatment before he reports at the camp. If he cannot present such a certificate he must undergo treatment promptly, and in that case will lose some time from his training. Outdoor games and sports will be under the direction of experts and every man will be taught not only to take part but also to direct. Careful individual attention will be given to the correction of all minor bodily defects with advice as to future corrective treatment and exercise.

Full provision will be made at Camp Knox for the wholesome and interesting employment of all leisure time. There will be lectures, moving picture programs, amateur and professional musical and dramatic entertainments with full use of Post Exchange facilities, mail service and a club room.

Each candidate will bring to camp one piece of hand luggage containing shaving and toilet articles; four suits of underwear, two pairs of pajamas, six pairs of socks, six handkerchiefs, four face towels and two bath towels. It will be well also to bring athletic uniforms and equipment will be furnished and laundry service provided free.

Camp Knox is located about thirty-five miles from Louisville; it contains a total of 32,000 acres of wooded, mountainous, rolling plains and is the second largest military reservation in the world. Its area is such as to permit all class of light and heavy field artillery to be employed and a battle of modern proportions may be held within its boundaries. This location was selected by the War Department in 1903 as being better fitted for training troops than any other area available within the Central Department. Permanent structures and improvements have been installed and it is crossed by the Dixie Highway. Camp Knox is an Artillery School of the Army and will be used as a permanent military training center for the entire Mississippi valley. The camp personnel includes units of the air service, which are employed in connection with artillery target practice for purposes of location and adjustment.

Reduction in Freight Rates. Joint Committee Decides

(By United Press)

Washington, July 14.—Official conclusion that the freight rates must be reduced in the near future has been reached by a joint senate and house committee investigating agricultural conditions, Chairman, Anderson, Minnesota, said today.

Anderson declared that the inquiry already had determined that the most pressing need of agricultural conditions was lower freight rates.

JAPAN ACCEPTS IN NOTE TODAY

The situation in the principal countries was:

Great Britain—a bitter political fight over whether Premier Lloyd George shall head the delegation to Washington.

France—The press is filled with cynical comment on the proposed conference doubting whether France will derive any benefit from it.

Italy—The people are eager for disarmament hoping it will reduce tax burdens. The Pope is enthusiastically supporting Harding's proposal.

In Great Britain the great topic is whether Lloyd George would head the British delegation to Washington.

Newspapers were full of comment on Lord Northcliffe's bitter attack on the prime minister. The Daily News said the foreign office and the premier's secretariat were refusing to give any information whatever to the Northcliffe press because of its denunciation of Lord Curzon the foreign secretary who has been put forward as a member of the British delegation.

Italy is eagerly discussing the conference and it is reported in Rome that the Vatican will give Harding's proposal its most enthusiastic support. The Pope probably will shortly issue an encyclical letter on the subject.

The French attitude as reflected in the Paris newspapers is rather cynical. The closer the Paris editors examine the conference scheme the less they like it.

Friction—the Pickpocket of Industry

If the loss to industry through unnecessary friction could be entirely eliminated, it would mean a saving of sufficient money to pay off the combined state debt of Illinois, Indiana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas in a single year.

—(Moody's Manual)

It would represent twice the value of all the vessels produced in the United States in a normal year, and would be greater in value than the annual rye, barley, or rice crop.

—(Statistical Abstract of U. S.)

The value of power lost to industry through friction has been estimated to reach the staggering total of $185,000,000 annually.

—(Industrial Oil Engineering)

Realizing that friction is an undesirable partner of industry, and feeling its obligation as the leader among manufacturers of lubricants, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has for years maintained a staff of lubricating engineers and lubricating chemists, whose business it has been to consult with industrial engineers to solve for them their individual lubricating problems as they are presented.

The services of these men are given without charge, and the saving effected has been great.

When it is realized that every machine presents a friction problem, and that every industry, from cotton goods to corn flakes is dependent on proper lubrication for turning out its product efficiently, one function of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) becomes more apparent.

Harding's Temperament

By temperament and practice President Harding is ideally suited for the presidency of the United States. That is what he told a committee of editors representing 600 from the newspaper profession who presented the president with a high back chair made from the old vessel the Revenge.

No man elevated to the position of presidency of the United States could find better training for the duties of the office than in the newspaper profession. In his lifetime work of running a newspaper, the president first learned to be tolerant, honest, fair and unrevengful. Otherwise he would not have been the success that he was as a newspaper publisher.

In no business is tolerance, open-mindedness and fair dealing more required than in the newspaper business. The questions which arise in a newspaper office for settlement most every day are the kind which test the mettle of men and teach them that patience is a virtue and that being open to conviction is a position in which men must place themselves in order to deal with others.

In responding to the committee which presented the chair, the president also found opportunity to reiterate that he did not seek the presidency. He said:

"I have said a great many times that I do not know what there is in the revolutions of fate. There was no particular reason why I should be President. I claim no outstanding ability. I did not even want the presidency. But, somehow, I have believed with all by heart that by temperament and practice I may be fitted into this peculiar situation in the world.

"The tolerance, the patience, the good will, the kindly feeling and desire to help form the greatest need in the world today. And if, while I am an occupant of this chair, I can add to the good feeling of our republic and then make our republic the exemplar of good feeling throughout the world my services will not have been in vain."

Relief in Sight?

If a settlement of the Irish question is made that will be reasonably satisfactory to both sides it will be one great relief not only to them, but to the people of the United States as well.

Our country today is practically divided into two camps on the subject—a minority of ardent champions of the Irish cause, and a majority who believe in letting countries on the other side of the water manage their own affairs without interference from us.

It is a source of uneasiness to many professional politicians, who want to keep in the good graces of their Irish constituents, yet fear to alienate the support of those in the other camp. It keeps them wiggling and squirming in an attempt to say something and yet at the same time say nothing.

We have had one great division of principle in this country. We do not want another.

The Irish question can not be amicably adjusted any too soon to suit our Uncle Samuel.

If you find it impossible to get rid of potato bugs in any other way you might squirt a little modern booze over the tops. Even a. p. b. couldn't survive that stuff.

The greatest of all sins are those that are found out.

After all, there is a bond of sympathy between doctors and editors. The one doesn't care to take his own medicine while the other seldom follows his own advice.

That Atlantic City mixup can hardly be called a prize fight, after all. Payment was guaranteed in advance.

They say a woman can't drive a nail but most of them can drive their husbands to do it for them.

"Kissing is forbidden in Japan", chirps an exchange. Doesn't do any good to forbid it here.

Opportunities are never without value, although many people are unable to fix the price.

The road to ruin is a well trodden trail. You can't miss it if you want to find it.

Marker Plan Boon to Tourists
(Indianapolis Star)

The plan of the Hoosier State Automobile Association to provide markers for towns and villages so that motorists may know the names of the places through which they pass is altogether admirable. Curiosity is a common characteristic and it is seldom that the average motorist on a trip which extends into territory beyond the vicinity of his home town does not pass through a number of hamlets and small towns of whose identity he fain would learn. In many cases the railroad station is the only place where the name of the town is displayed and as the gasoline tourists seldom visit it he remains ignorant of the name. He is too wise, of course to ask the villagers, for no matter how small the settlement, any native would resent as a slight previous failure to become acquainted with what to him is the most important place in the entire country.

These markers, in addition to satisfying latent curiosity, also will identify various towns which have figured in the state's early history or which have gained some reflected glory through the residence of a well-known writer, artist jurist, etc. In the vicinity of Noblesville, Sandalwood comes chiefly from India.

for example, there nestles a group of houses and a general store at a shady road crossing. There is nothing about the peaceful little spot to inform the automobile traveler that this place was once suggested as the site for the state capital. It is referred to in state histories as Conner's Place, and after heated arguments it was eliminated in favor of "the junction of Fall creek and White river". Brief reference to that fact would be certain to create new interest for the tourist.

"The Little Town o' Tailholt" made famous by one of Riley's poems has recognized the value of proper advertising and has requested the automobile association to install its signs. The same curiosity exists as to the identity of streams, especially among the men, who wish to make mental notes as to future availability for fishing or swimming. Deer creek, a stream which drew a tribute from the Hoosier poet, might be singled out from the mass of commonplace streams which meander over Indiana. Other rivers and creeks deserve similar recognition. The acquaintance of the average auto driver with these towns and streams ordinarily does not cover more than a radius of one or two counties and in a day when the automobile tourist covers the entire country the markers which have been proposed can not fail to make trips much more interesting.

Get the Listening Habit

It is recounted that on one occasion a certain wise man was asked the first rule of getting along in the world of people. The answer came back—"Be a good listener."

In these days of modern newspapers, reading corresponds to listening. In the news columns are the printed views and opinions of the foremost men and women of our day—leaders in thought and action. To be well informed, you read what they have to say, just as you would listen if they were speaking to you.

In the advertising columns, you have the opportunity to "listen" to messages that are even closer and more vital to your everyday life.

Your own townspeople, as well as men and women from all over the world are telling you their stories. For your benefit.

There's an endless array of articles from which you can choose. The choice is simple if you're a good listener—the more you listen the more you know and the better able to buy.

BIG SEASON FOR FOOTBALL TEAMS

Plans Are Already Being Made For Season Which Will Open in the Early Fall

MANY IMPORTANT SCHEDULES

College Teams in the State Will Begin Practice Early For Heavy Games to Come

By HEZE CLARK
(Written for United Press)
Indianapolis, July 14.—Football teams are already planning for a big season and within two months early practice will start at all Indiana colleges. Schedules of most of the big colleges have been announced. No schedule has attracted any more attention than that arranged for Indiana university by Coach Ewald O. Stehm.

The schedule follows: Sept. 24, Franklin at Bloomington; Oct. 1, Kalamazoo College at Bloomington; Oct. 8, Harvard at Cambridge; Oct. 22, Minnesota at Minneapolis; Oct. 29, Notre Dame at Indianapolis; Nov. 2, Iowa at Iowa City and Nov. 19, Purdue at Bloomington.

Never has an Indiana team had a better arranged schedule or a schedule that included as many important games. Last year Indiana was third in the Big Ten Conference football race. The powerful Bloomington aggregation was only defeated by Notre Dame in the last few minutes of play in a game that will go down in football history as one of the greatest battles ever fought on a Hoosier gridiron. No wonder Indianapolis football followers and in fact gridiron fans from all parts of the state are waiting to see the gridiron classic in Indianapolis Oct. 29.

But before that date after two practice games, one with Franklin and the other with Kalamazoo college a fast Michigan team, Indiana will play one of the most important games ever put on an Indiana schedule. Indiana meets Harvard at Cambridge, Mass. Indiana has in past years met some eastern teams but these eastern teams have been met on the western gridirons. Indiana defeated Syracuse two years ago and that team was supposed to be one of the best in the east. The Indiana alumni are more than pleased about the Harvard game and have expressed a hope that it will be an annual affair.

Minnesota two weeks later will be looking for revenge on Indiana for what happened last season. Only two games are scheduled for November. Both of these are important. Two weeks after the Notre Dame game, Indiana meets Iowa, and that is sure to be some real battle. The closing event of the season is the big game, the one with Purdue. While Coach Stehm's team defeated Purdue last fall it was by a narrow margin.

While Indiana lost some stars, Coach Stehm has material which should develop into one of the most powerful gridiron machines in the country. John Kyle, full back is equal to the best in the west. Russ Williams who two years ago was one of the best half backs in the country but who last year had an off season will try and stage a "come back." Elmer Wilkens of last season's freshmen eleven will have a chance to make good at half. Gene Thomas and Bob Raymond are other back field stars.

Three fast ends will don football togs at Bloomington. Frank Hann, Vern Bell and Pat Donovan are the wing men. Hann also has a toe that can drive the long punts. John Leonard, last year's tackle will prove a power in the line this season. Cloyd France, will try for the tackle left open by Elliot Risley's graduation. Jess Lorhei appears to be the best prospect for center. Bud McCaw will flank him in one guard and big Frank Cox will probably be used at the other guard.

Coach Stehm has planned well for the coming season. He knew what material he would have and he built his schedule to fit his material. The schedule while hard is well planned. The material is about the best Indiana ever had and the football season of 1921 should be a successful one for Coach Stehm.

WINTER SPORTS IN OLYMPIC CONTESTS

Congress of Countries Interested in Olympic Games Takes in More Territory

MOUNTAIN CLIMBING ALSO

Athletes Will Take Part in Outdoor Sports of New Kind When Next Meeting is Held

By GEORGE GRIBBLE
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Lausanne, (By Mail)—The Olympic Congress which has been sitting since June 2nd has terminated its work. The object of the conference was to complete and revise the work of the former conference of national Olympic committees, which was held in Paris in 1914.

Among the innovations to be introduced as standing features of Olympic games, are winter sports. This aroused a lively discussion among the American, Canadian, Swiss and French delegates in opposition to the Scandinavians, who were opposed to the new ruling. It was finally decided, however, that winter sports should be held during January or February preceeding the Olympic meetings. Among the events will be skating races for distances of 500, 1,500, 5,000 and 10,000 meters, figure skating for men and women, singly and in couples ice hockey and k-si-ing, long distance races (12 to 18 kms. and 50 to 100 kilometers) and jumping. Races for bobsleighs were not included, being judged too complicated.

Another important decision was the including of mountain climbing as an Olympic event. It was decided to offer a prize for the most noteworthy performance in mountain climbing, both from the sporting and scientific point of view, occurring between two Olympic meetings. The prize will be attributed either to individuals or to groups.

The proposal to create a Union of International Sporting Federation was not approved. In place of it, it was resolved to organize a permanent board of five members whose object it shall be to collect all documents and information of interest to international sporting associations.

Among the countries represented were: Central America, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Egypt, France, Great Britain, Greece, Holland, Italy, Luxembourg, Monaco, Norway Portugal, Roumania, Sweden, Switzerland and the United States.

JOHN BULL TO GET CHANCE TO EVEN UP

British Track Teams Invade United States to Meet Athletes of Four Universities

GOLFERS TO PLAY ALSO

New, York, July 14—Although the international polo cup and the British "open" golf cup slipped off England's soil, John Bull will get a chance to even up matters a little in the next two weeks.

A band of British invaders arrived today when the track teams of Cambridge and Oxford landed from the Olympic to engage the combined teams of Yale and Harvard and Princeton and Cornell.

These track athletes rank among the best England possesses and the 17 collegians on the combined teams may give the Americans a stiff argument.

Ten events are on the program in each meet and the British scoring system will be used. The winner only will get one point.
The form shown by George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, the two British golf professionals here for an exhibition tour, when they beat Jock Hutchinson and Tommy Kerrigan in the match that finished yesterday indicates that both will be strong contenders in the American open championship next week in Washington.

Britain walked off with the American title last year and if Mitchell or Duncan can defeat Hutchinson and his American band, the British will be revenged for the loss of their "open cup."

Watching The Score Board

Yesterday's hero—Earl Smith, the battling Giant catcher. He hit a homer with the bases full, helping to down the Cardinals 9 to 4.

Jack Graney's pinch hit in the ninth inning gave the Indians a 4 to 3 victory over the Red Sox. Mails hand was hurt by a thrown ball.

Gharritys home run with two on bases enabled the Senators to beat the White Sox 10 to 9.

Consecutive homers by Kilduff and Griffith with two singles and a triple resulted in five runs and the Robins beat the Reds 6 to 2.

Parks, University of Michigan pitcher, hurled seven innings and held the Athletics to five hits, the Tigers winning 11 to 5. Home runs by Phipp and Mays, a triple by Meusel, and a bunch of singles gave the Yanks six runs in the fourth inning and a 11 to 1 victory over the Browns.

Ruth got one single.
The Braves made it seven games in a row by taking two from the Cubs 3 to 1 and 5 to 2.

DECISION MAKES THE COUNTY LIABLE

will cost between $3,000 and $4,000 and the city now intends to present the claim to the commissioners. County Attorney Custer stated that it would be rejected pending a decision by the supreme court.

The case is of more than passing interest in Rushville because it opens up unlimited possibilities for the city to obtain the repair of paved streets here out of the treasury of the county. Every brick street in Rushville with the exception of Third street and Second street from Buena Vista Avenue to the Pennsylvania railroad was improved under this particular statute.

Many cities in Indiana, especially county seat towns, have improved their streets under the three-mile law. In some places the county has kept the streets in repair while in other towns the corporation has paid for the work.

HUNGER STRIKER MAY DIE

REVELS ON STILLMAN YACHT IN EVIDENCE

To Be Described in Detail at Resumption of Hearing in the Divorce Suit

FORMER STEWARD WITNESS

(By United Press)
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 14.—

Revels in high society of James A. Stillman's yacht Modesty which belied the craft's name, were to be described in detail at the resumption of the hearing in Stillman's case today.

Despite the announcement of Stillman's counsel that no defense would be made against evidence introduced to show their client's connection with Mrs. Florence Lawlor Leeds whose three year old son Jay he is alleged to be the father, Mrs. Stillman's attorney prepared to go ahead with their carefully prepared plans to reveal many "interesting incidents" in his life.

Frank Murphy, former steward on the Modesty, was scheduled to be the chief witness for Mrs. Stillman.

Among the things which may be made public are drinking bouts featured by gold cocktail shakers and crystal glasses; "domestic" quarrels on the Modesty between Mrs. Leeds and other women alleged to have been friendly with Stillman; "reading circles" in which lascivious books were read aloud in mixed company, and parties in which the guests' attire was anything but Eskimo in its character.

SOVIET RUSSIA IS IN BUSINESS

Lay Aside Bolshevism For the Present and Begin Task of Starting Factory Machinery

NEEDS FOOD MOST OF ALL

Newspaper Correspondent Sees Change in Attitude Especially With Other Countries

By LLOYD ALLEN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

London, (By Mail).—Bolshevism has gone into business.

For the time at any rate, the world-wide political propaganda of the Soviets has been side-tracked.

Today the Soviet communistic leaders are searching world markets for machinery, textiles, locomotives and repair parts for the crippled Russian factories. They want some food—canned goods mainly.

Today Soviet Russia is actually buying goods in every highly industrialized country; England, Germany, Italy and—America, not in America, as yet.

This is a rough summary of what I learn from the Russian Trade Delegation here in London, the chief of which is Leonid Krassin; one time revolutionist, still a communist, but also a man "who believes in the realities," as Soviet attaches here say.

In other words Krassin is classed by his own people as a "practical idealist" as contrasted with the purely theoretical communist of which Russia has her full share these days.

One year ago Soviet Russia's reputation here in London (except in Labor Circles) was blacker probably than in any other country in Europe.

Today a marvelous transformation has taken place. Soviet commissioners may be seen any day hurrying to and fro in the business section of London, some of them riding in spanking brand new automobiles, hugging large portfolios of specifications, busily engaged in ordering goods for Russia.

No longer is the bar of silence maintained between the Soviet Delegation and the newspapers. Soviet Communiques are issued with as much freedom and more frequently than statements come from the old established embassies of France, Italy and other powers.

Apparently, the majority of London has accepted the Soviet buyers as an immediate necessity.

The Liberal English press and the Labor Party organs continually insist world reconstruction and British prosperity is impossible unless Russia is opened up and again resumes her place in the list of great buying and selling nations.

Backed by the prestige of the British Foreign Office and by a decision of the British Courts, the Soviet delegation may acquire, in any way it pleases, property, inside Russia and ship same to England.

Bluntly, the British have legalized confiscations in Russia, but certainly they do not encourage any such maneuver on the part of the Moscow government.

Bulk of business opinion, and the verdict of the British diplomats would seem to be: Let's straighten out the by-gones in Russia somehow or other—but meanwhile we must not let past errors hinder the pressing business of rehabilitating commercial relations.

England—in the midst of widespread trade depression—wants to sell goods and revive home prosperity. Russia, according to the Soviet representatives, is a great market and offers gold and other credits as guarantees for purchases. Briefly the two nations are getting together commercially.

France may protest; America may stand amazed at the spectacle of England fraternizing with the Soviet government—but the Soviet delegation here is not worrying much. They confidently believe they will be trading with the United States before long; and they don't care a rap about French protests.

"France has nothing to sell," the Soviet representatives say: "She has only her enormous debts for money loaned the corrupt Czarist government; much of which was used to maintain the Grand Dukes in profligate luxury. We will talk of these French debts later—now we are preoccupied trying to reestablish Russia of today."

Amusements

Directed by T. J. Geraghty

Dorothy Dalton is back again in the role of a daughter of the great Canadian Northwest, a similar character to that she made such a success in "The Flame of the Yukon" several years ago. It was in such a role as she has in "The Idol of the North," J. Clarkson Miller's story, which is at the Princess Theatre that Miss Dalton gained her reputation as a screen star.

Tom J. Geraghty, former Rushville man, is supervising director of the picture, it having been made since he assumed charge of the Lasky-Famous Players studio on Long Island.

Miss Dalton plays Colette Brissac, daughter of a French-Canadian miner, who fled to the wilderness to escape arrest for having killed a man. She is left without father and mother in a mining town built up over night and obtains a position in the Aurora Borealis, a saloon and dance hall of the town. She soon becomes one of the biggest drawing cards of the saloon and plays unmercifully with the miners, "trimming" them for all they are worth, but still remaining the most desired of all the girls.

In the dance hall she meets Martin Bates, a young engineer who has come from New York after a series of financial difficulties, and who fast becomes a worthless drunkard. In order to get even with the way she has treated them the miners force her to marry Bates. After the first shock Colette decides to make the best of it and determines to make a man of him. After many incidents of dramatic interest she succeeds not only in regenerating Bates but also in winning his love.

Circus Friday, July 22

The announcement that the famed Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows are to exhibit at Indianapolis Friday, July 22, has aroused no end of interest. It would seem as though practically all the youngsters and grown-ups in this section were planning to attend.

Twice each day for almost two months New York's great Madison Square Garden was packed with those who thronged to see this biggest program in circus history. They saw scores of the jungle's most ferocious beasts, subjugated to such a degree, that these beautiful animals leaped to and rode on the backs of elephants and horses, jumped through hoops of fire, opened their mouths that their men and women trainers might lay their heads and hands inside them, or leaped from pedestal to pedestal like trained dogs. And these marvelous dumb actors are all on tour with the great double circus. The four immense steel arenas in which they perform are set up in the mammoth main tent. There is no additional charge—everything is on the one program. And by "everything" is meant not only the wild animal displays, but the entire circus. More than 600 men and women, embracing the world's foremost arenic stars, take part. There are almost 100 clowns. Aside from the ferocious beasts, the program includes thirty trained elephants. Troupes of camels perform in the rings. There are five companies of trained seals, many dogs, bears, monkeys, pigs and pigeons. Fully seventy trained horses and Shetlands are presented. It is the biggest circus program the world has ever seen, given under the largest tent and, in connection, is the famous combined Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey menagerie.

BOTH PARTIES REPRESENTED

Scarborough, N. Y. July 14—Prominent Republican and Democratic women met here today at the home of Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip to hold a conference on "Government Efficiency".

Mrs. Vanderlip, who is chairman of the New York State League of Women Voters, in addition to inviting Republican and Democratic county leaders and assembly and congressional district leaders of her own organization, sent invitation to presidents of all the Federated Women's Clubs in the state, presidents of local chapters of the W. C. T. U., members of the Federal Council of churches of Christ in America, Northeastern Field Committee of the Y. W. C. A., and other persons interested in promoting efficiency in government.

Kidney and Bladder
Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged up Kidney Deposits Are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee it in Every Instance.

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys so whatever you do don't neglect them."

Dr. Carey's famous prescription No. 777 known as Marshroot is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day, with smarting or irritation, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine, bloating, irritability with loss of flesh, backache, rheumatism or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be stealing upon you.

Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription if you have any of the above symptoms, Kidney and Bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unflinching certainty.

Never mind the failures of the past if you even suspect that you are subject to Kidney Disease, don't lose a single day for every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they have received no benefit.

ALLEGED AUTO THIEF
TAKEN TO KENTUCKY

George W. Baker, Who Was Arrested at Knightstown Recently, Returned to Stand Trial

MARSHAL IS COMMENDED

George W. Baker, who was in jail for a week, charged with the theft of an automobile, has been returned to Elizabethtown, Kentucky, to stand trial. He was arrested at Knightstown where the Dodge Brothers automobile, in which he and another man named Miller were riding, is still being held.

Marshal Bradway of Knightstown has been commended very highly for his arrest of the man and the recovery of the automobile. Having no information concerning the men except that they were camping near Knightstown, he went to their camp to question them. Their actions when they found he was an officer, aroused his suspicions and after a short conversation he took them into custody and started them to Knightstown. Unfortunately, on arriving there one of the men made his escape. A confession by Baker then confirmed Marshal Bradway's suspicions.

The identity of the owner of the car and the place in Kentucky from which it was stolen was secured by communicating the license number of the machine to the secretary of the state of Kentucky.

EPSOM SALTS
LIKE LEMONADE

A few cents buys a handy package of "Epsomade Salts" which looks and acts exactly like epsom salts because it is real epsom salts combined with fruit derivative salts, giving it the taste of sparkling lemonade.

A tablespoonful in a glass of cold water whenever you feel bilious, head-achy, or constipated, will give you a splendid epsom salts physic without the awful taste and nausea. "Epsomade Salts" is the much talked of discovery of the American Epsom Association.

Nationwide Strike Against Soda Prices in The Making

New York, July 14—A nationwide soda water strike, to force down the price, is in the making according to Mrs. Emma Grant, leader of the Bronx soda revolutionists.

"If the kids throughout the country rise up in all their just wrath against the soda profiteers, just as we have done, the price will soon come down" she said today.

"I have received letters from all parts of the country, from kids and civic leaders, encouraging a nationwide kid revolution against these profiteers and I believe they will do it."

After her three days crusade in the Home of the Cocktail, Mrs. Grant was able to force down ice cream soda prices from 17 and 22 cents to 11 cents.

"And we have only begun" she said. "Before long we will have it down to five cents where it belongs."
